PREFACE

The first six-year cumulation of the Bibliographic Index brings a degree of permanent achievement to an experiment in bibliography made possible by the resources of the many other indexing projects of the H. W. Wilson Company and by the cooperation of individuals connected with a number of libraries of rich resources in New York City and Washington, D.C. In addition to the bibliographies listed in the annual volumes more than 5000 bibliographies with imprints of 1937 thru 1942 have been listed; of these, slightly more than 3500 are bibliographies in books, and over 1500 are in periodicals. These new bibliographies are listed under 9260 subjects; 1406 of these subjects were not previously represented in the Index. In all, approximately 50,000 different bibliographies published during the years 1937 thru 1942 are estimated as the total included in the cumulation.

Various sources have been searched for references to the bibliographies cataloged by the staff of the Index. Library of Congress proof sheets; books published by other publishers and sent to the H. W. Wilson Company for listing in such Wilson publications as the Cumulative Book Index, Book Review Digest and Standard Catalog Series; periodicals indexed by the Wilson Company; other books, pamphlets and periodicals at the New York Public Library, Columbia University and the New York Academy of Medicine; lists of bibliographies by the Library of Congress Division of Bibliography; pamphlets received by the Vertical File Service; theses and lists of current publications both general and special; all these have been scrutinized with systematic care for bibliographic material. Bibliographies published serially have been located thru a check of a card list of serial publications classified by the Library of Congress in Z5000 to Z8000, and thru a check of citations to serial bibliographies in Mudge's Guide to Reference Books. The bibliographies themselves have often listed other excellent bibliographies. With the exception of some bibliographies cataloged by the Library of Congress the bibliographies have been examined and cataloged by the members of the staff of the Index.

To the vigilence, patience and diligence of the following collaborators is due in no small measure the value of the choice of bibliographies and the choice of subject headings found in the Index as well as the accuracy of the citations: Mr. John L. Nolan, Mr. Birger Lundell, Mr. Martin Loftus, Mr. Samuel Baig, Mrs. Ellen Bellingham, Miss Eugenia Patterson of the New York Public Library; Mrs. Marie Christmas, Mr. Roger Gifford, Miss Janet Bogardus of Columbia University Library; Miss Helen Sayer, bibliographer of the New York Academy of Medicine; Miss Gladys Boughton of Pratt Institute School of Library Science in the field of botany.

The departure of Mr. Loftus, Mr. Baig, Mr. Gifford and Miss Bogardus for the Services has left a heavy burden for their successors and for the remaining staff members. The resignation of Mrs. Christmas, Mrs. Bellingham and Mr. Nolan due to their removal from New York City has also been a loss to the Index. Special appreciation is due Miss Ruth Naber, a former member of the staff, for her faithful editorial service. The final responsibility of editorial proofreading has been in the hands of Bea Joseph, assistant editor from 1941 to 1943, now editor.

Directions for Using This Index

This Index is solely a subject list. Under each subject, books and pamphlets are listed by author while periodicals and bulletins are listed by title; the two types of entries are together in one alphabetical list. Complete or comprehensive bibliographies are starred and listed first under the subject. Titles used are those of the book, pamphlet or article, but the page references are for the bibliographies only. Frequently the bibliography covers a wider field than that of the book as indicated in its title. The following sample entries illustrate the order of information given in the references.

SAMPLE ENTRY: Books and Pamphlets	Ability Testing * Greene, Edward Barrows. Measurements of human behavior. N.Y. Odyssey ['41] p734-62
Explanation	A bibliography on Ability testing will be found in Edward Barrows Greene's Measurements of human behavior, published by the Odyssey Press, Inc. in 1941, on pages 734-762.
SAMPLE ENTRY: Periodical Article	Abrasives Bibliography on blast cleaning with metallic abrasives. R. Hopp. Heat Treat & Forg 27:280, 289-90, 328-32 Je-Jl '41 annot
Explanation	A bibliography on Abrasives entitled Bibliography on blast cleaning with metallic abrasives, compiled by R. Hopp, will be found in the periodical Heat Treating and Forging, volume 27, pages 280, 289-290, 328-332, which appeared in June and July 1941. The items listed are annotated.
